

POWER PATCH COLORING BOOK

BY THERESE MAY

Copyright
Copyright © 2005 by Therese May
All rights reserved.

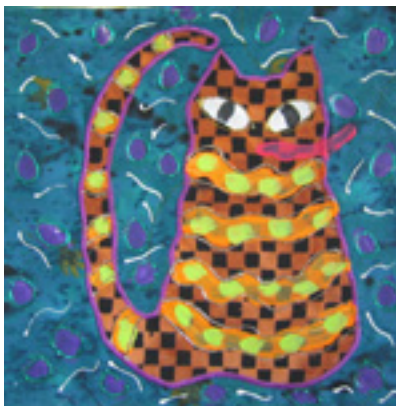

This book belongs to Therese May. Reproduction of images by written permission only.

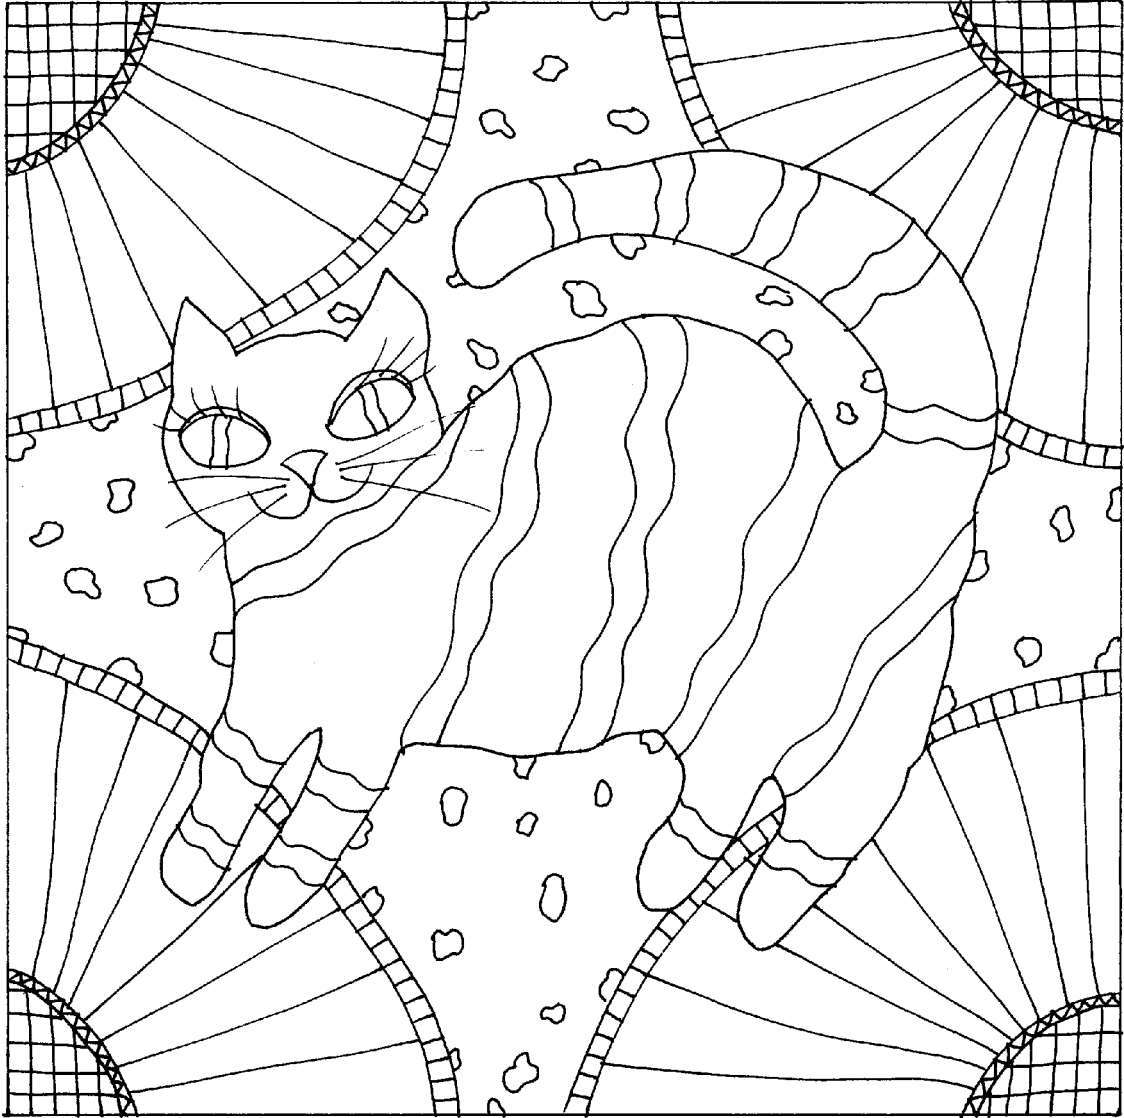

POWER PATCHES

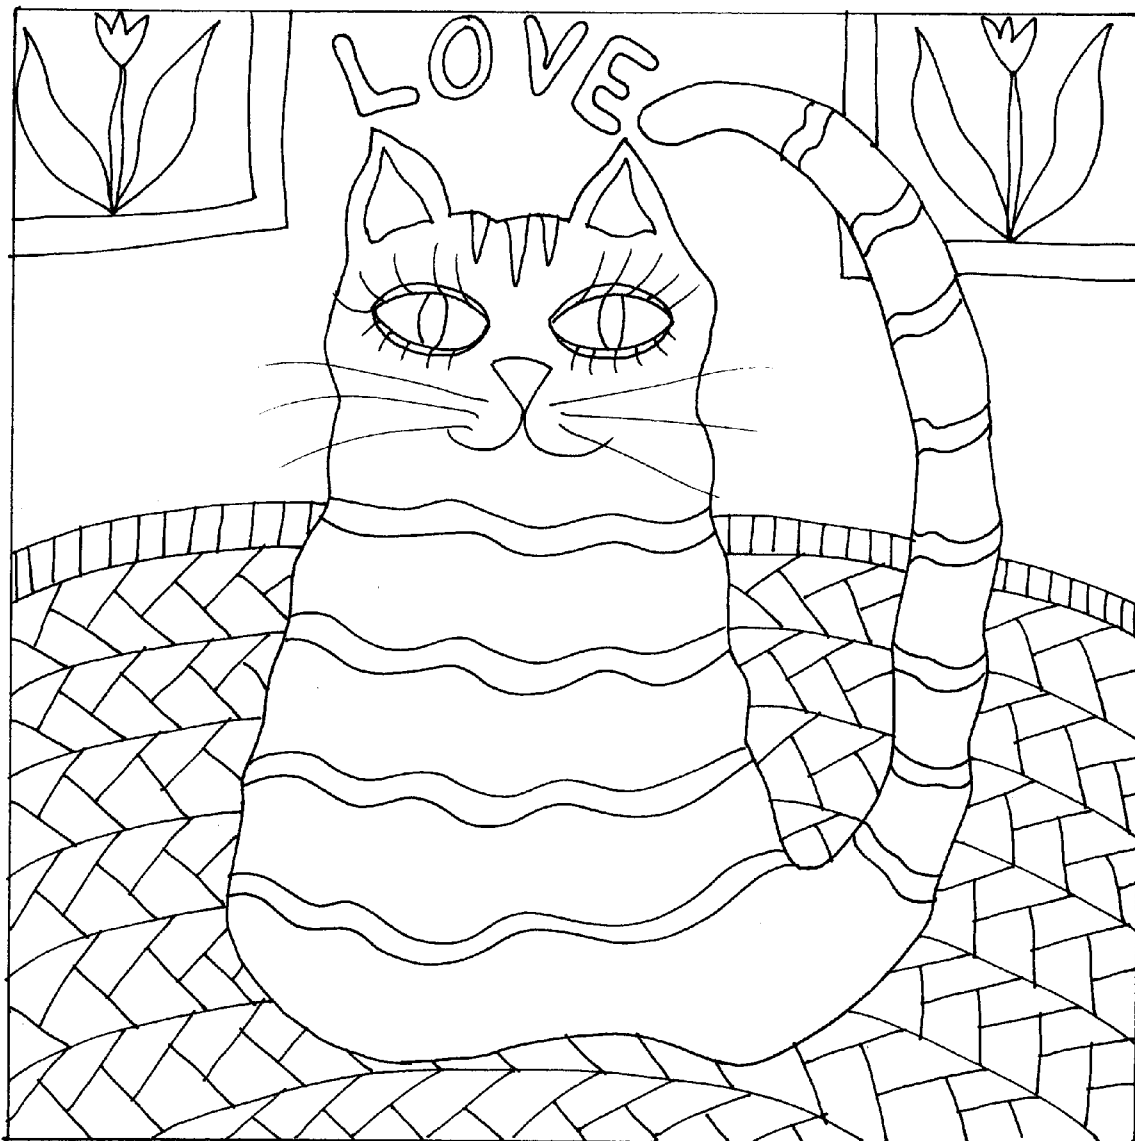

I began making “Power Patches” in 1988. I was beginning over again after leaving a 23 year marriage and I needed a way to make money, so I started a T-shirt business, selling T-shirts with animal and flower patches sewn onto them. At first I had a rep who received orders for me from shops; later I sold them to my students in my art quilt workshops. Now, you can buy these beautiful, fun, whimsical patches at www.quiltpower.com. I call them “Power Patches” because making them empowers me to go forward in my life and in my business. The idea of Power Patches has been an answered prayer and hopefully an inspiration for others. I now have over thirty designs and more on the way. I made the drawings for this coloring book by using some of my power patch templates and then adding to the images until they told a new story. The titles came to mind spontaneously. I like to use marker pens to color them!

Therese May
therese@theresemay.com
www.theresemay.com
www.quiltpower.com

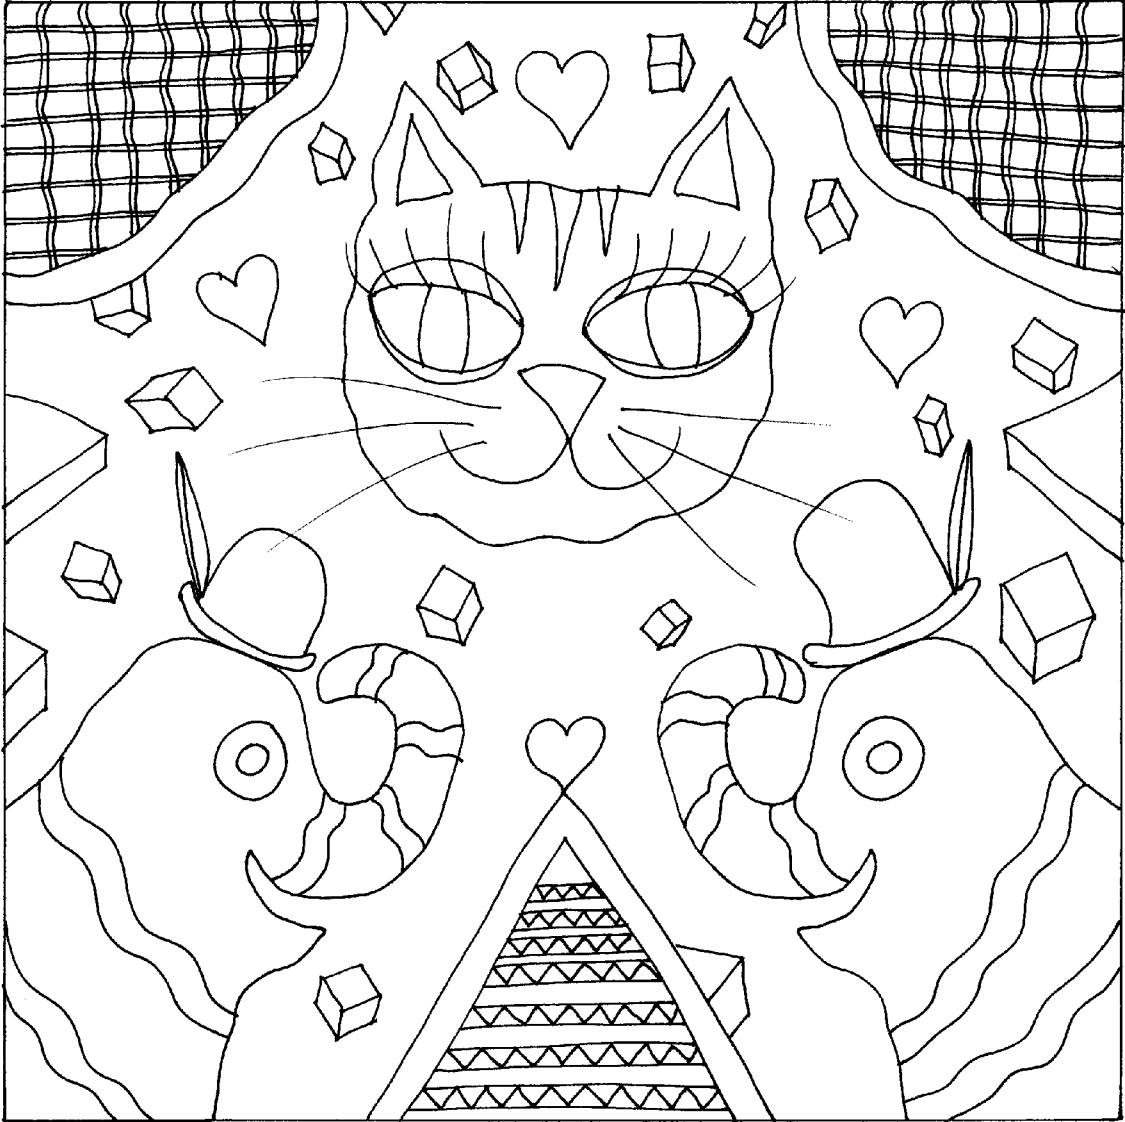

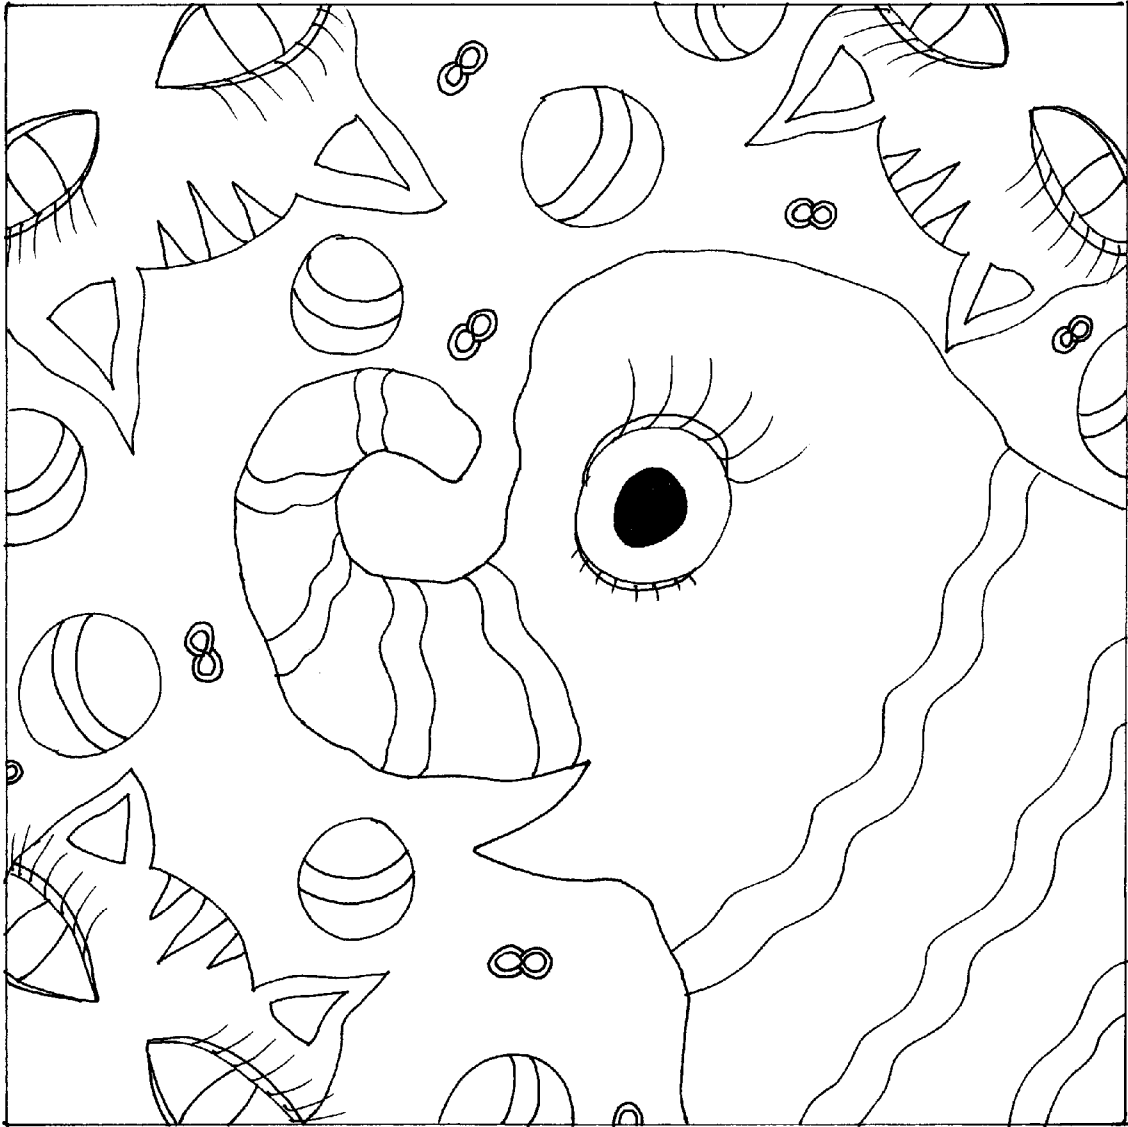

“Cat with Fans”

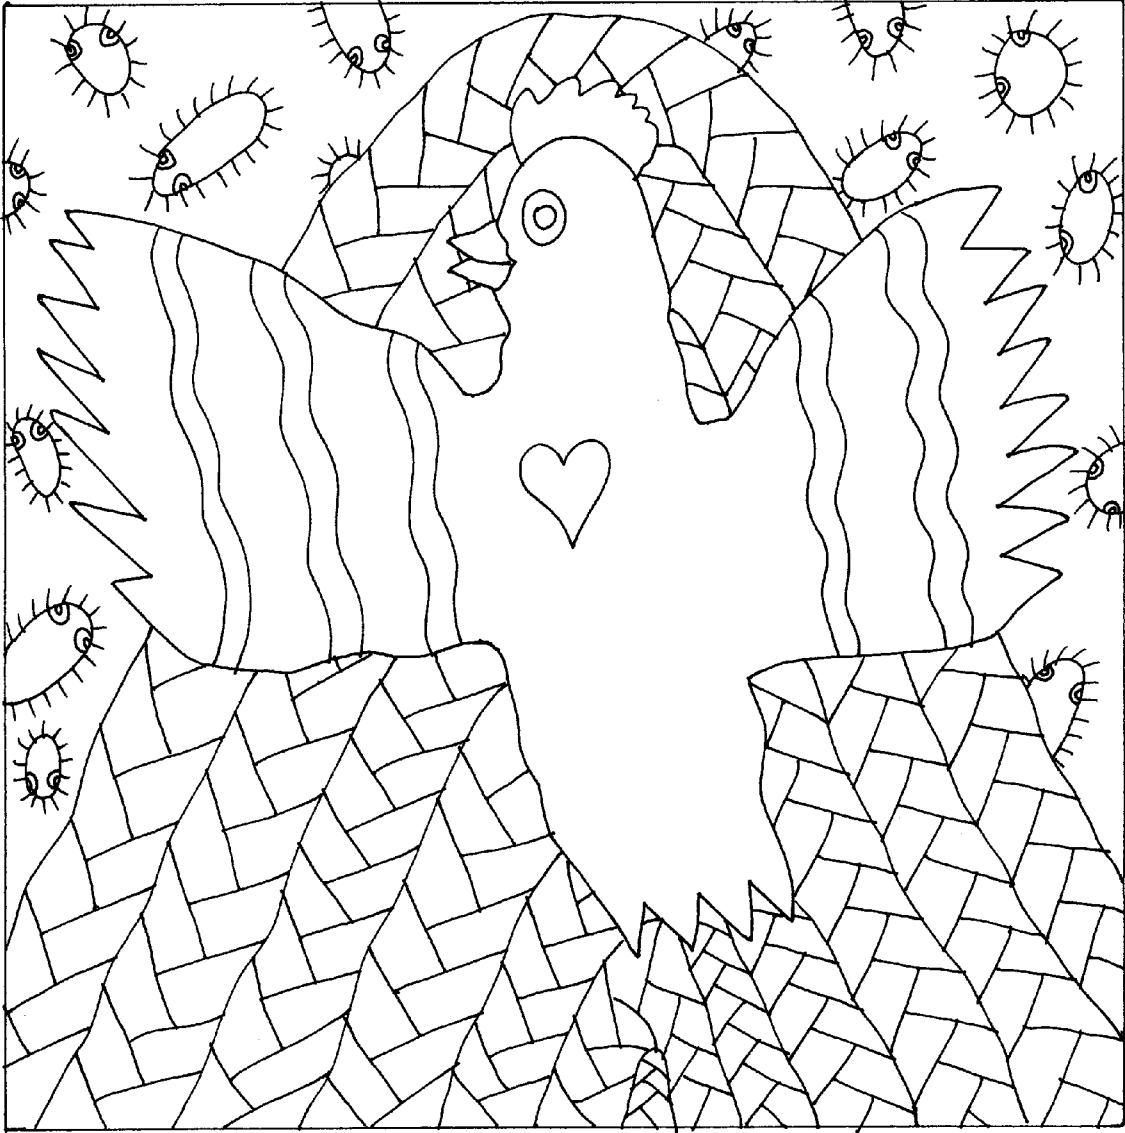

“Love Cat”

“Two Elephants and a Cat”

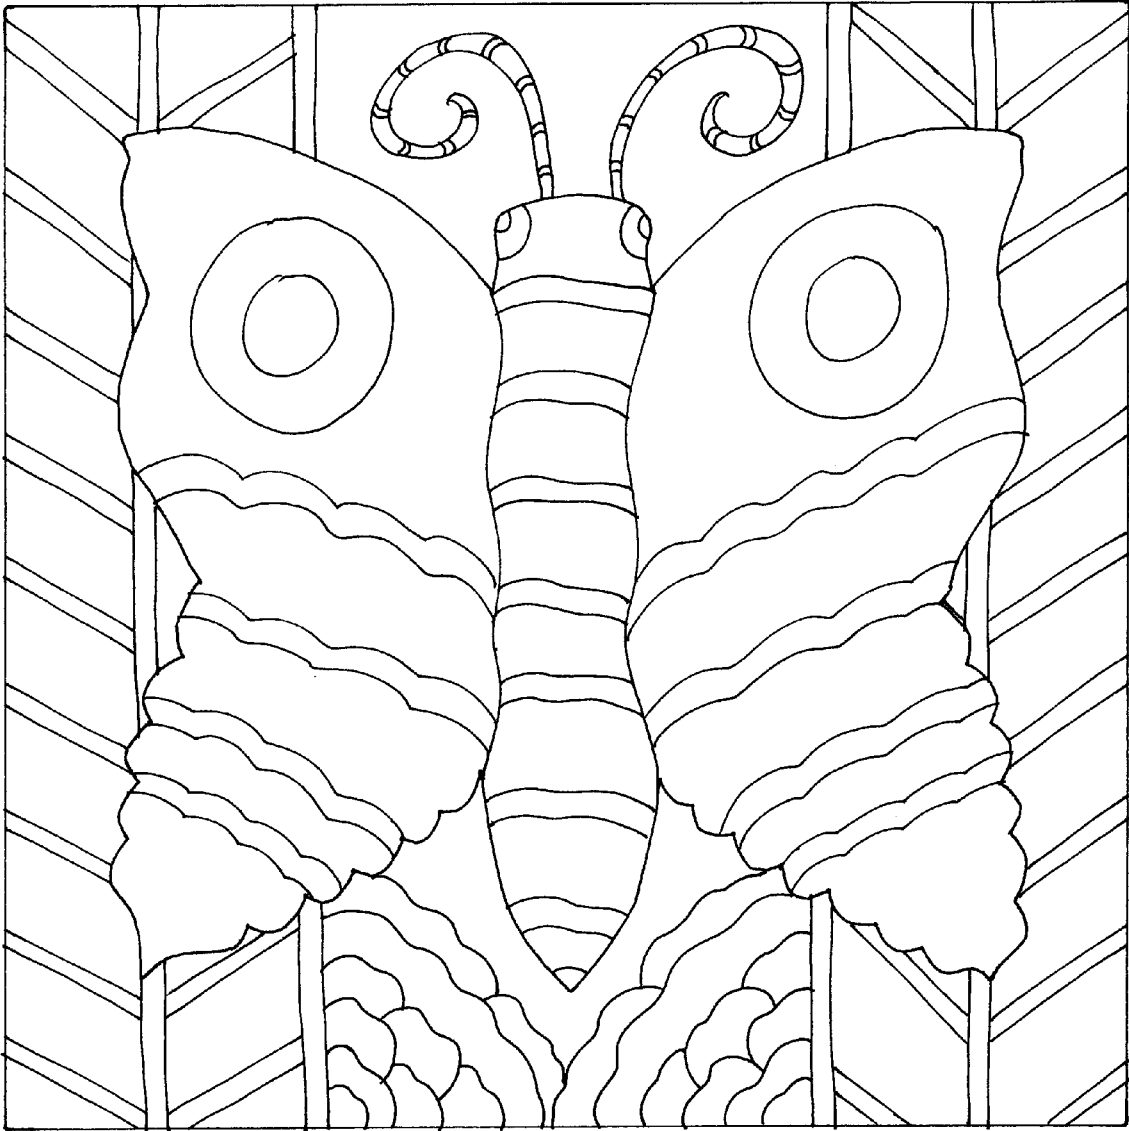

“One Elephant and Three Cats”

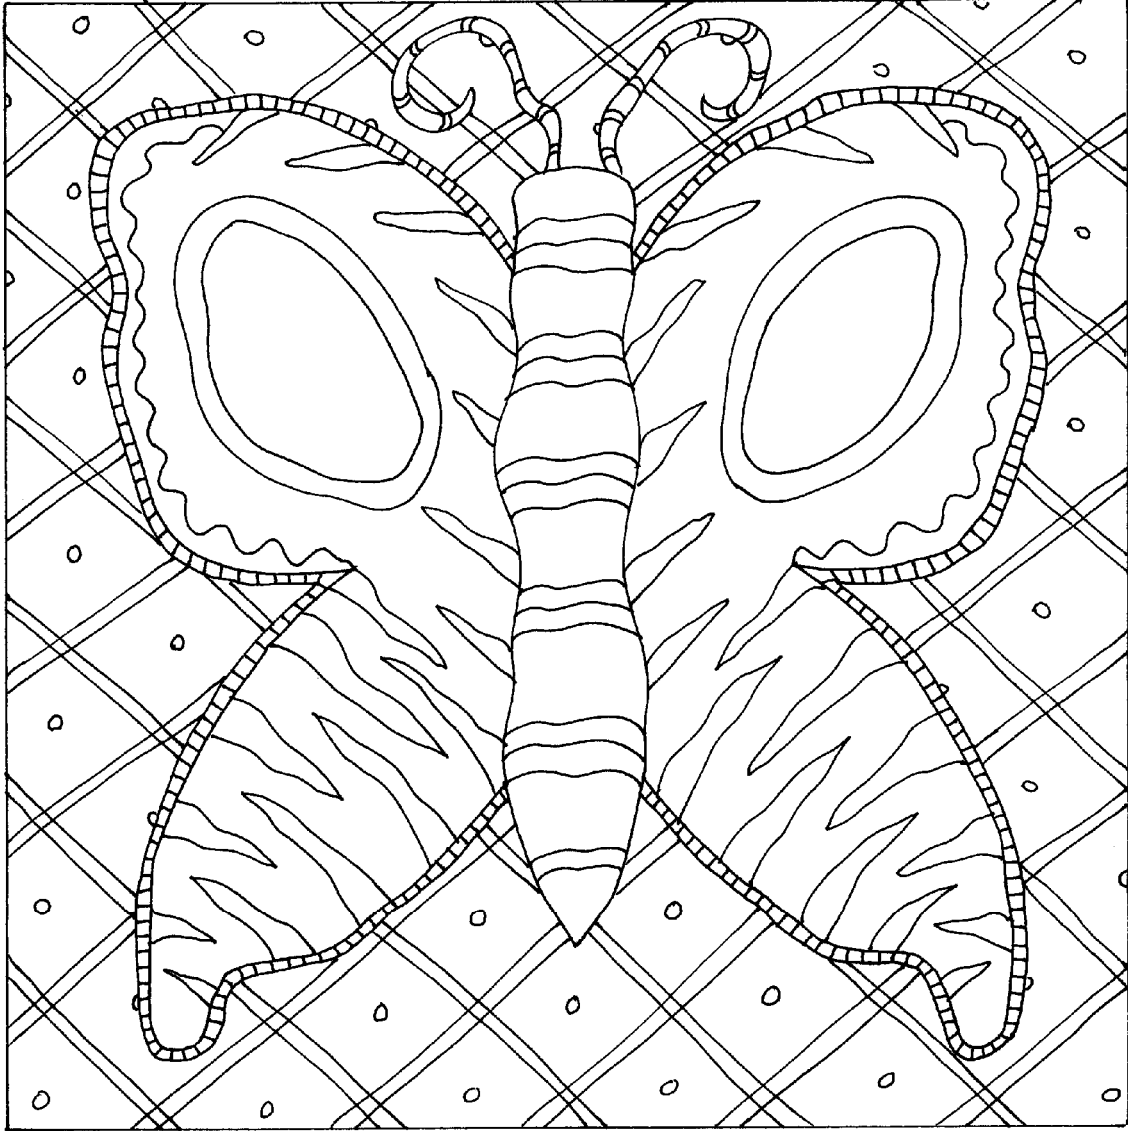

“Love Bird”

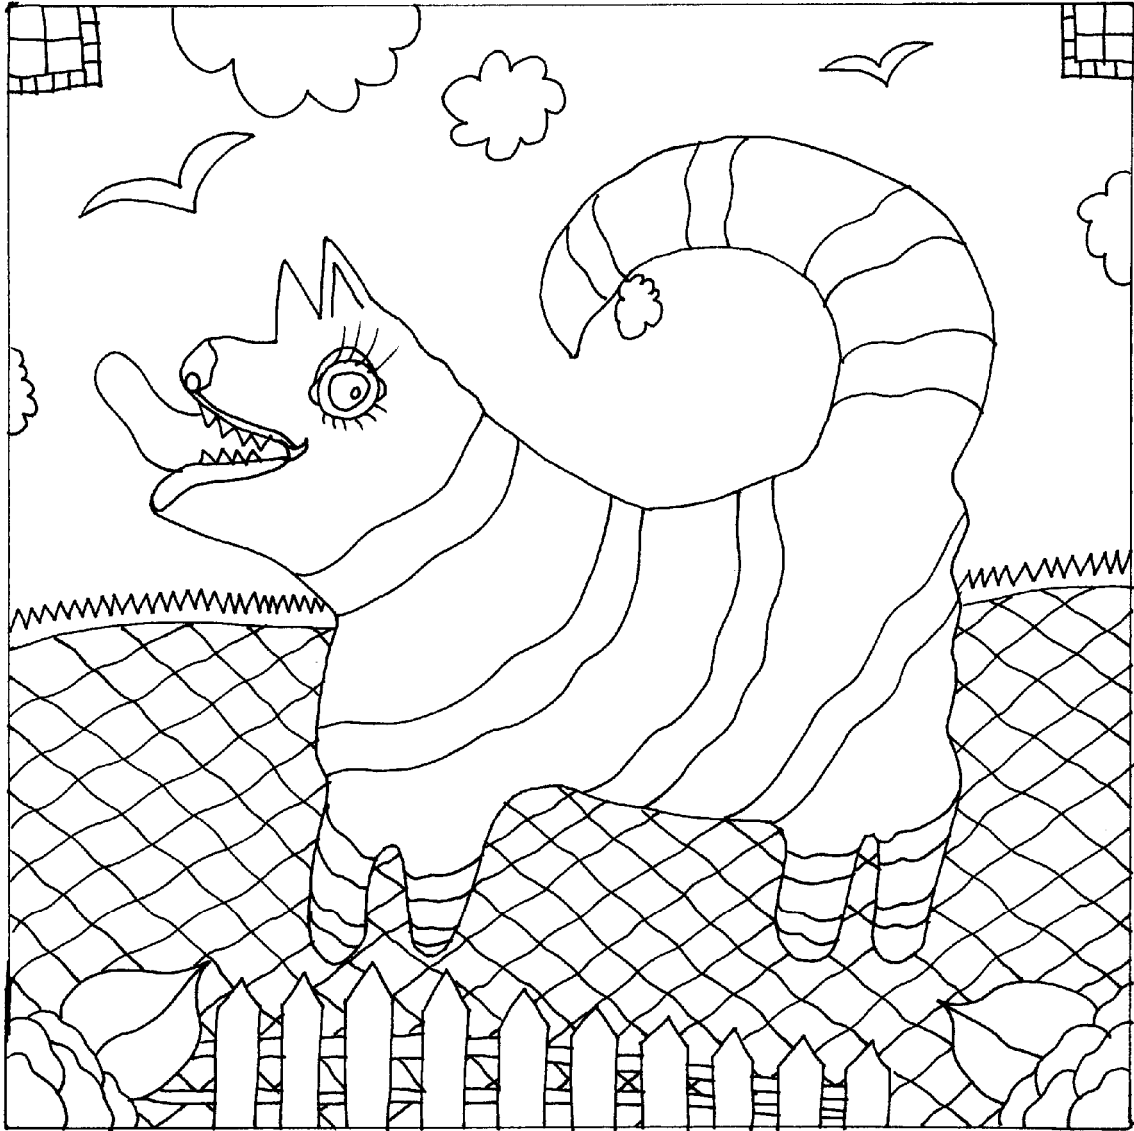

“Lovely Bunny”

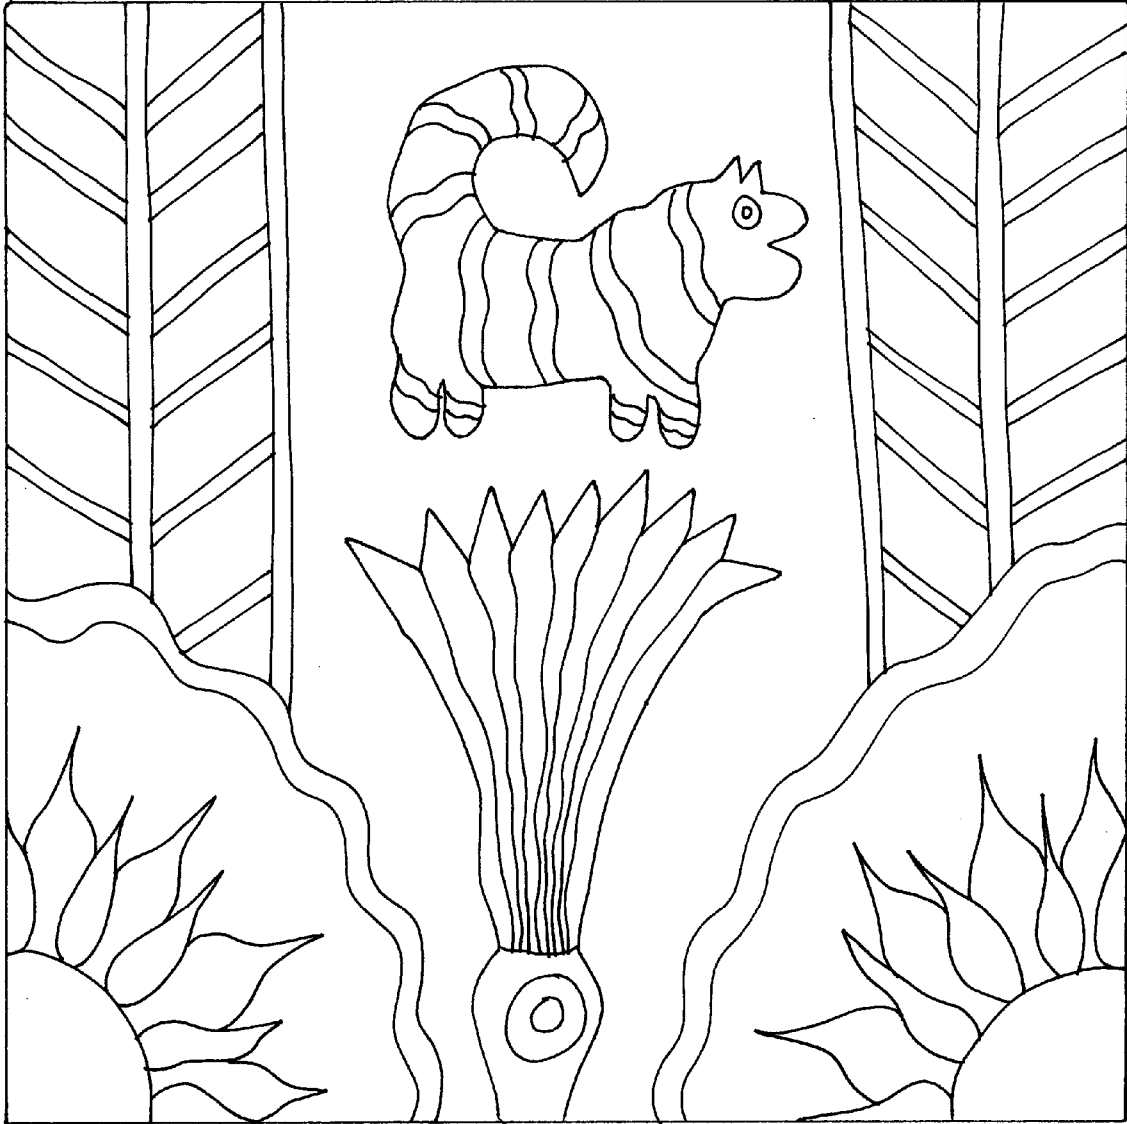

“Butterfly for You”

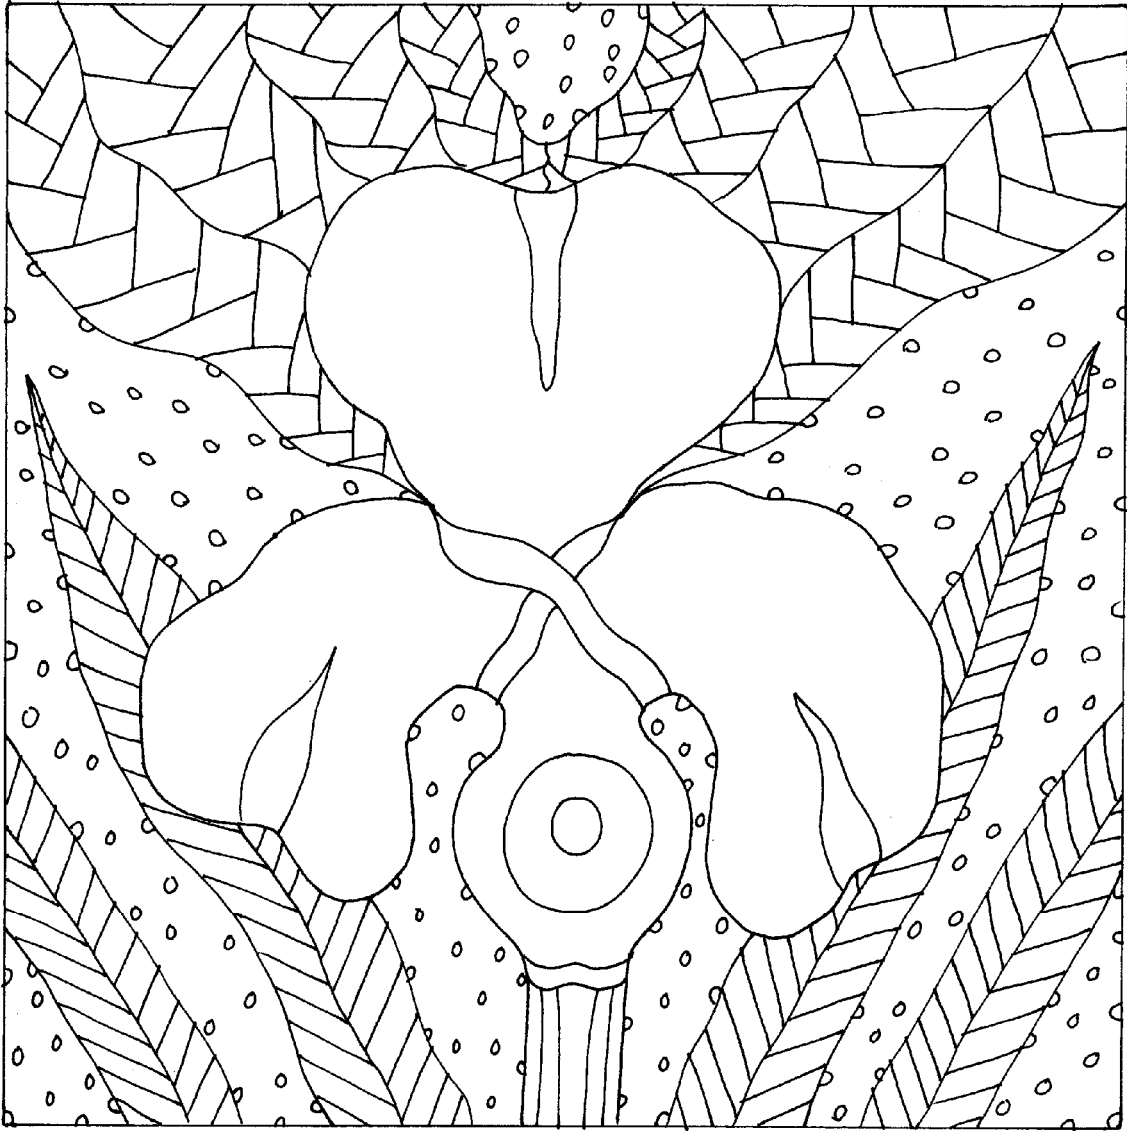

“Butterfly for Me”

“Doggie in the Yard”

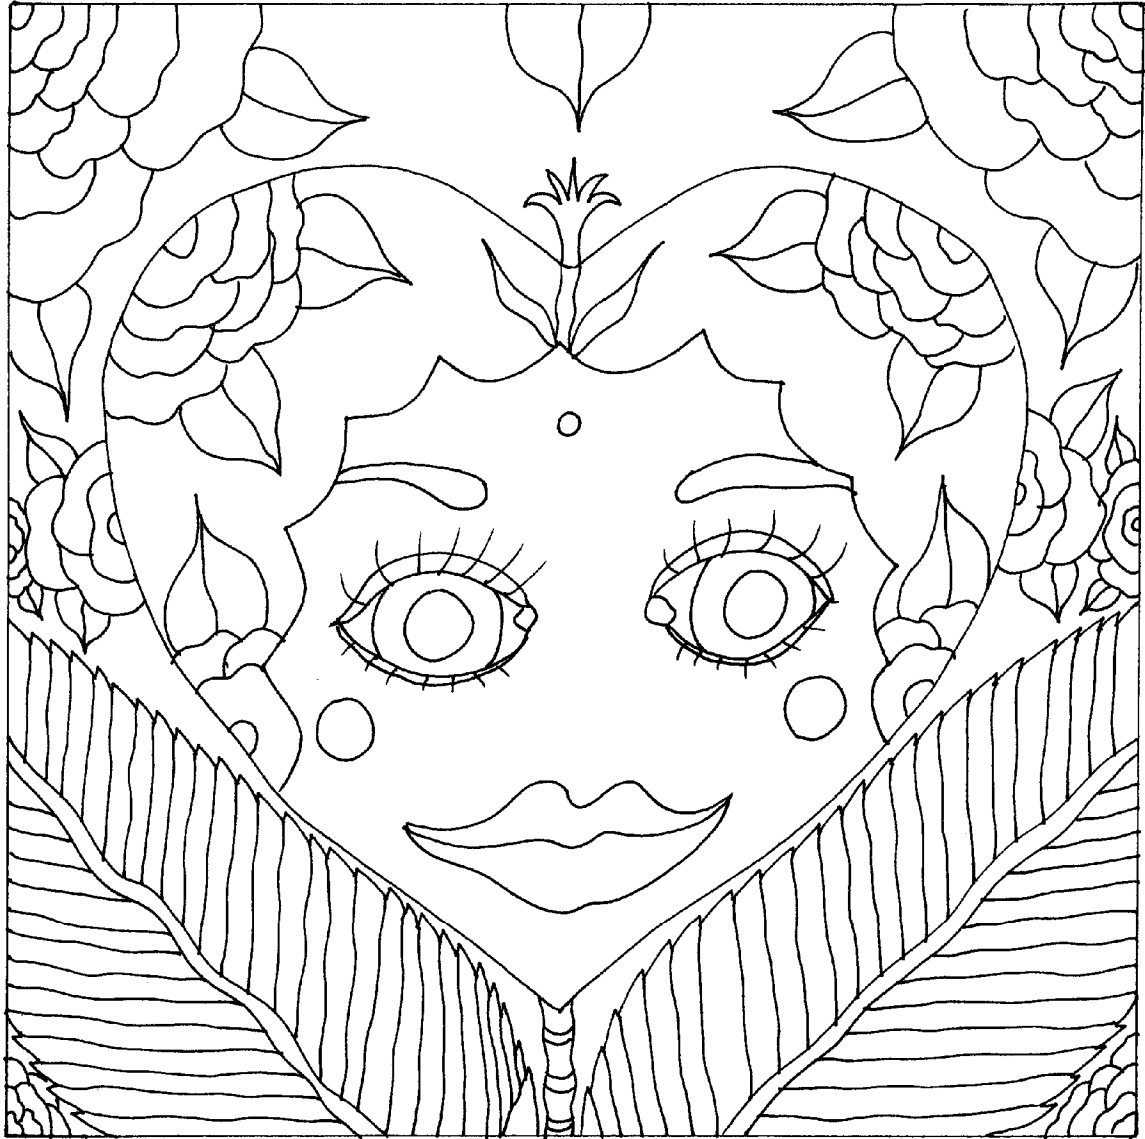

“Doggie and the Flowers”

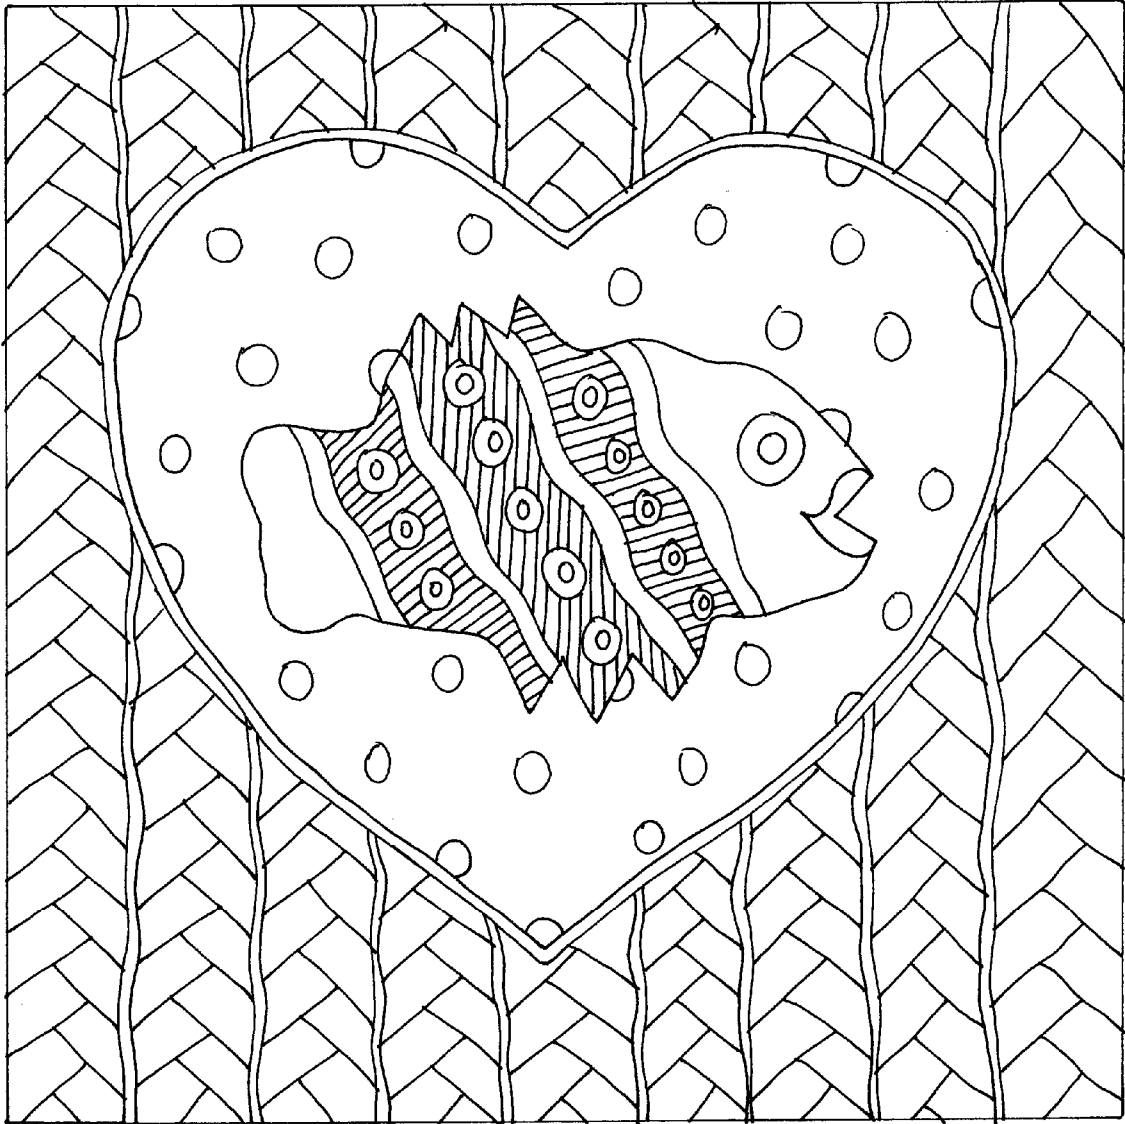

“Magic Iris”

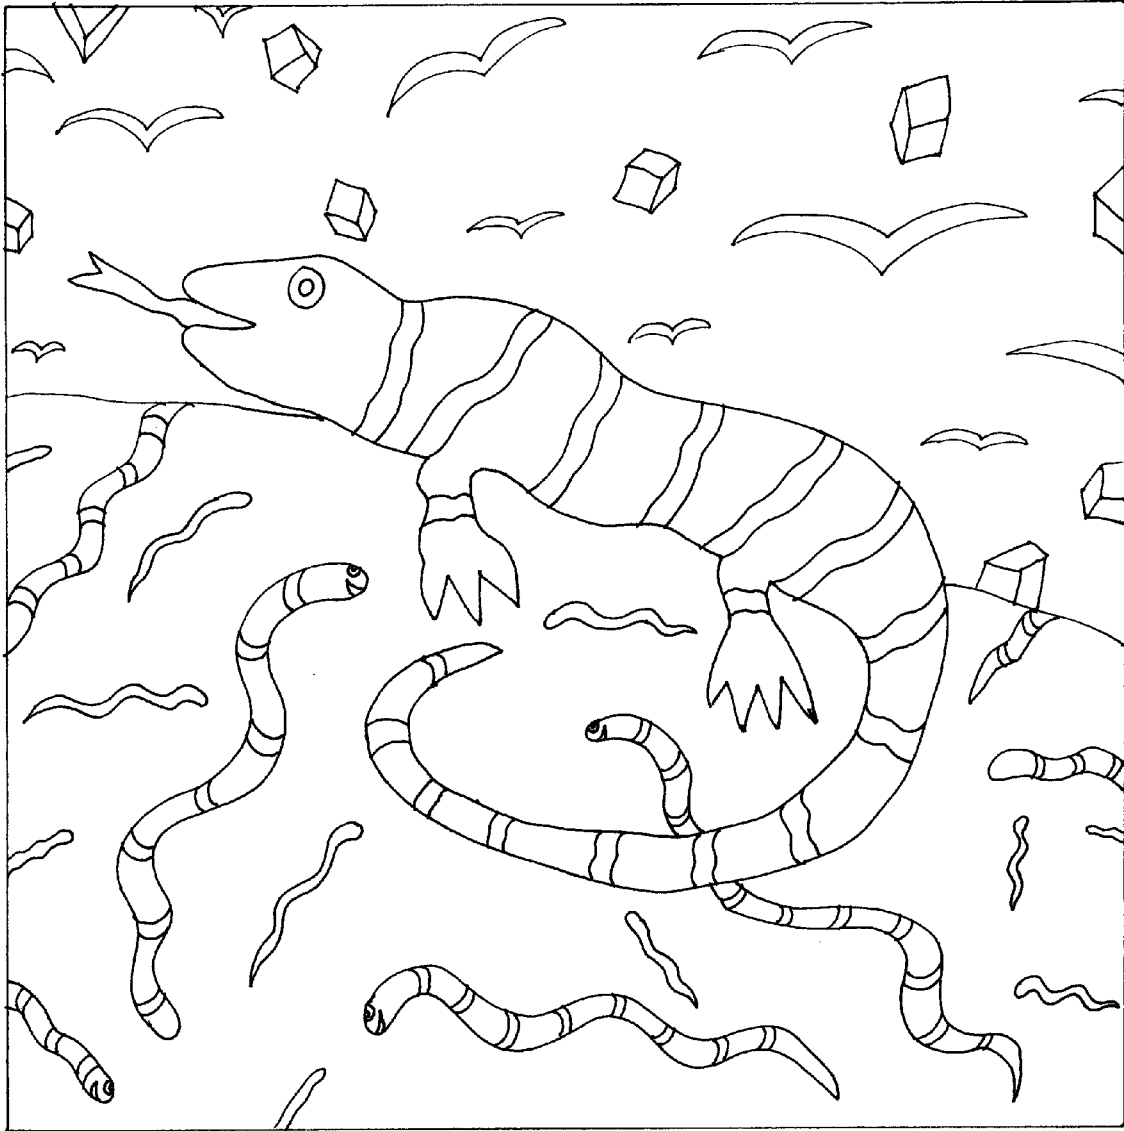

“Tulip with Meaning”

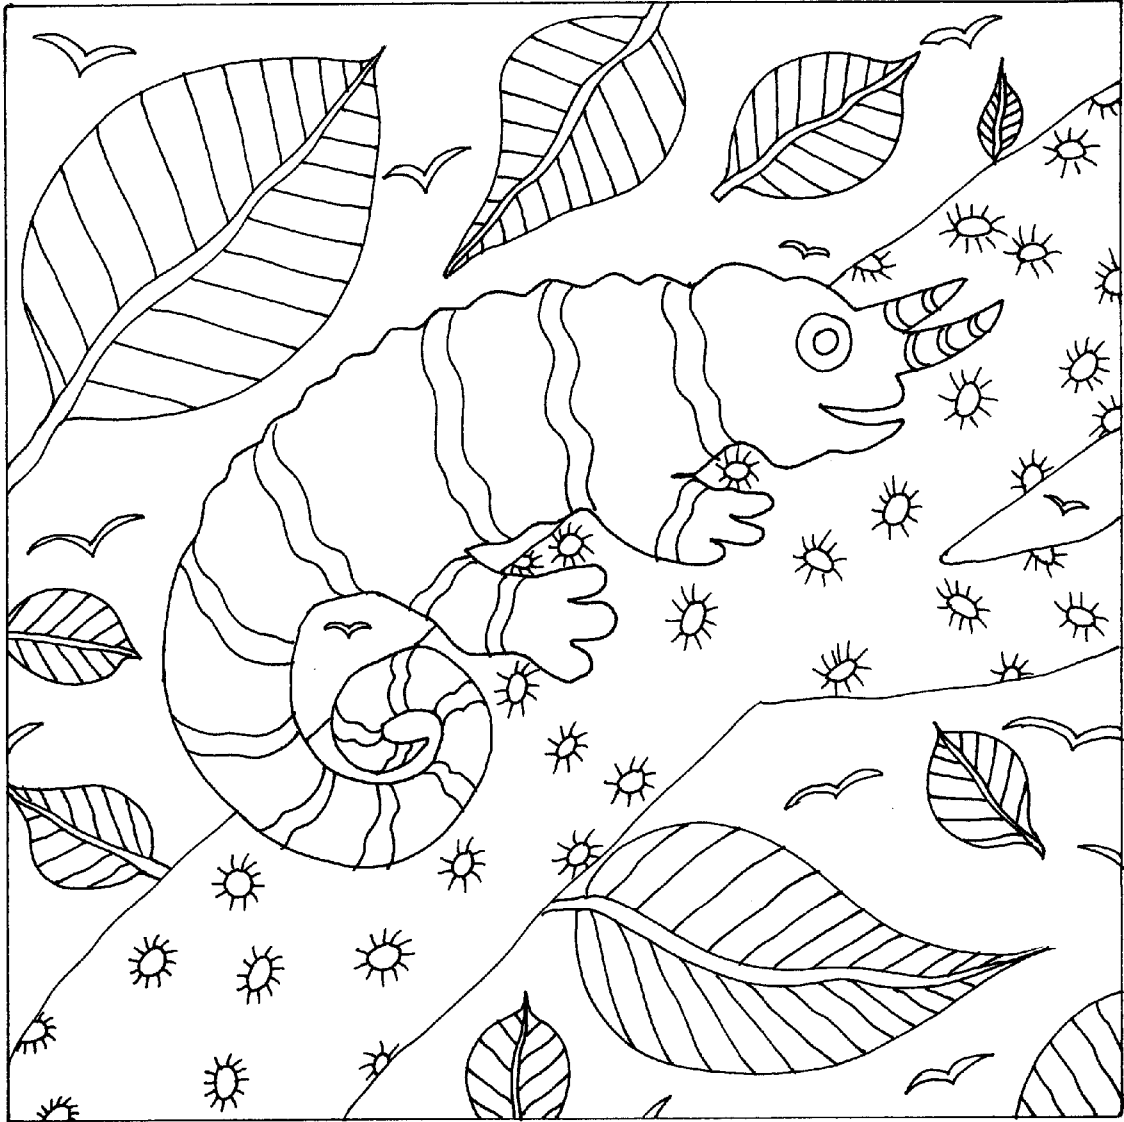

“Facing Sweet Heart”

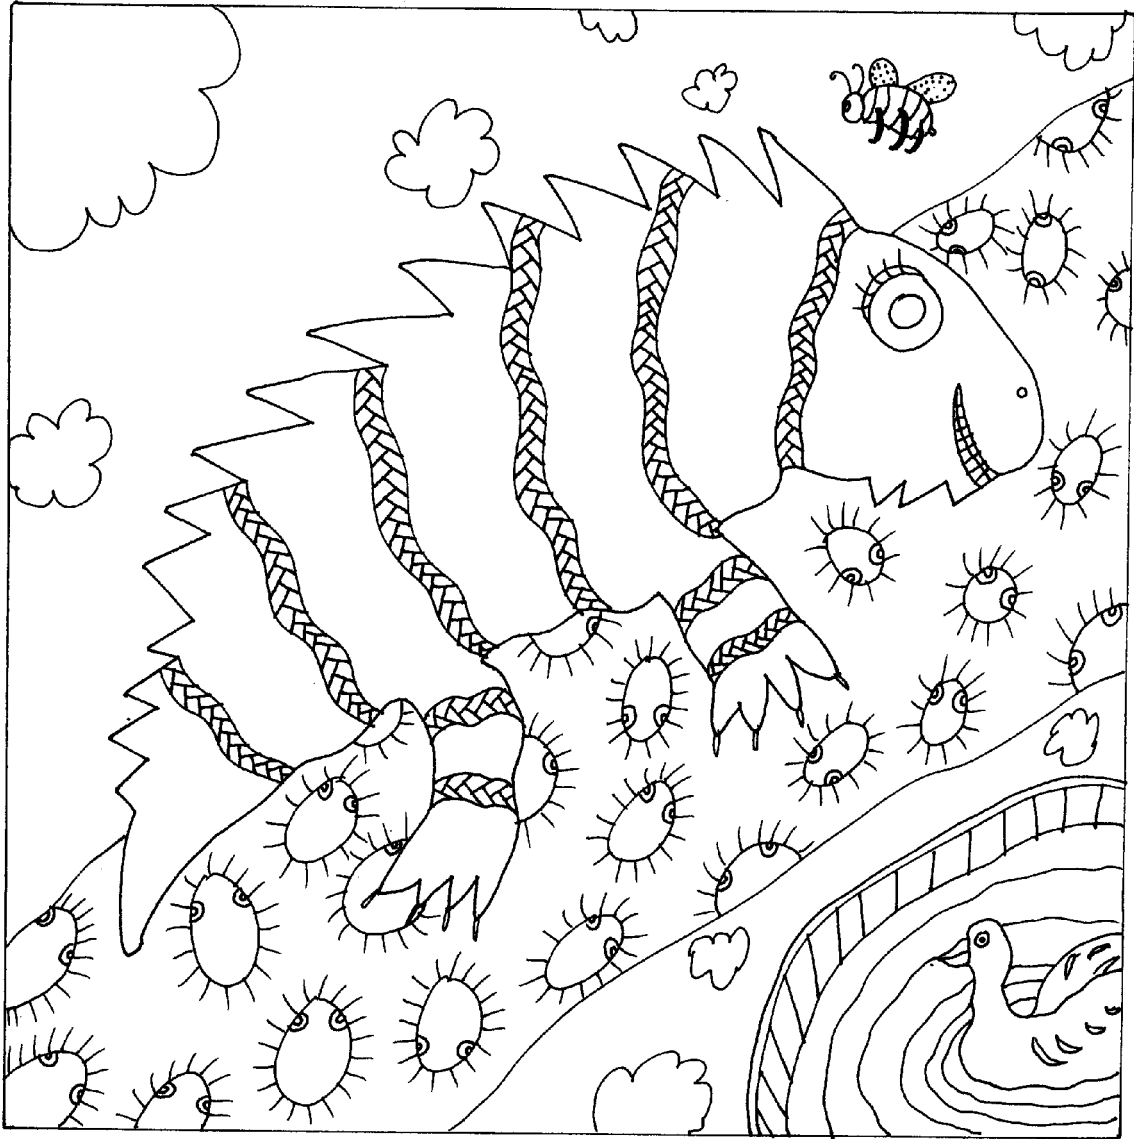

“Forgiveness”

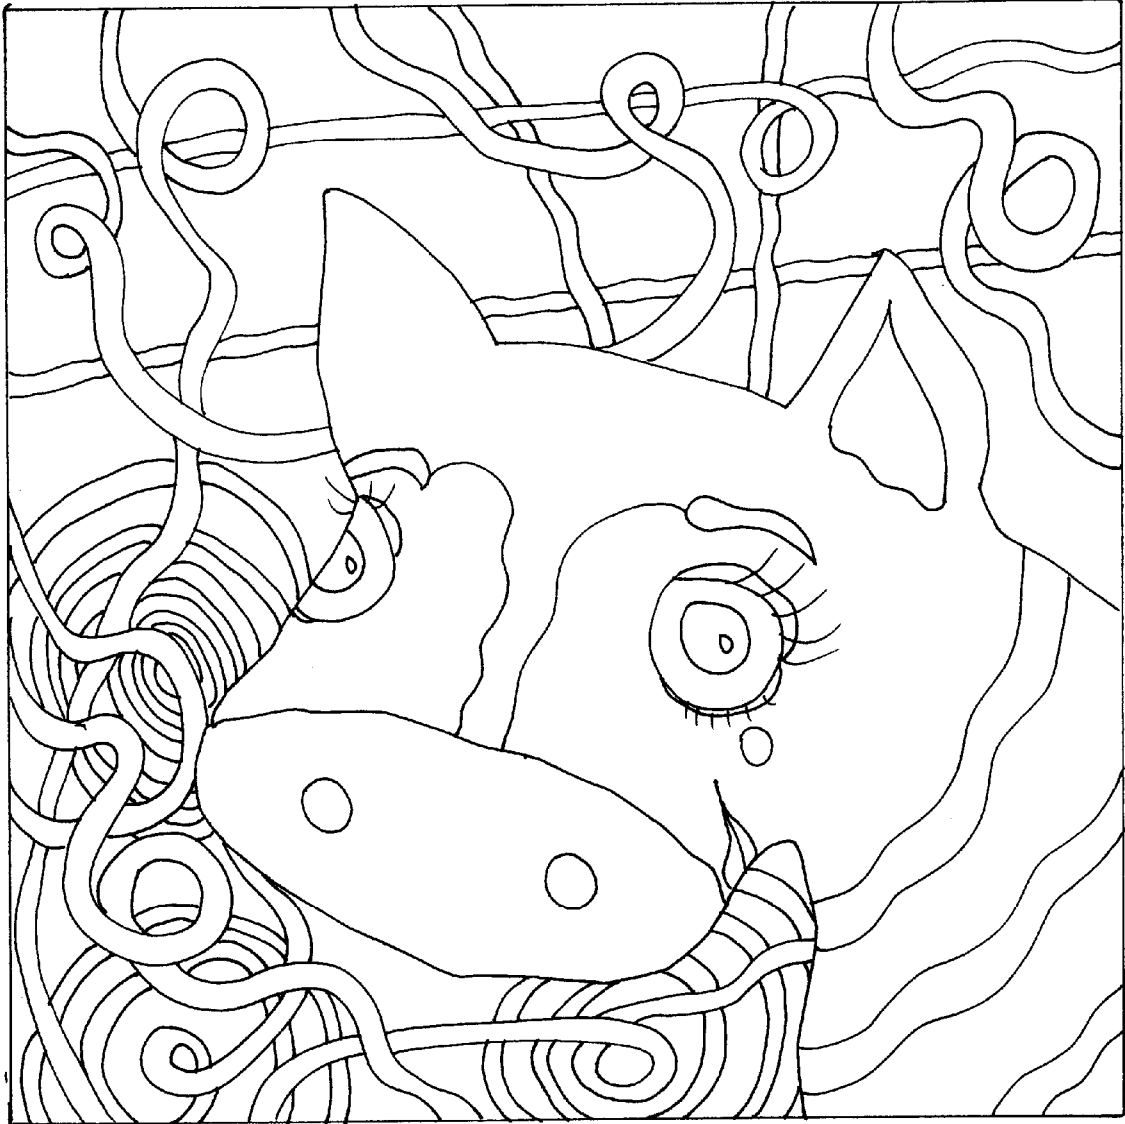

“Swell Salamander”

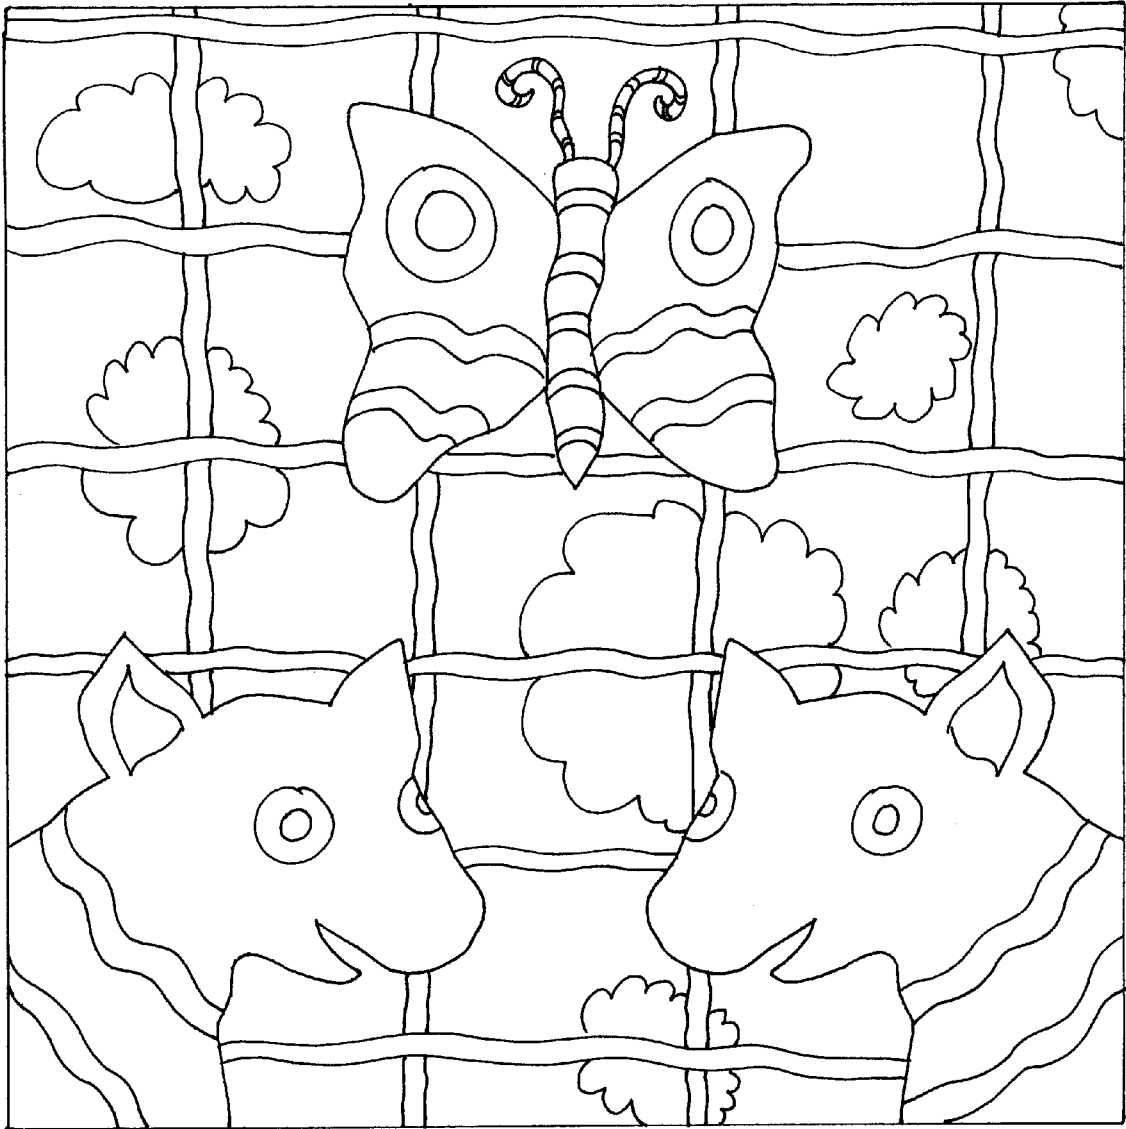

“Happy Horned Lizard”

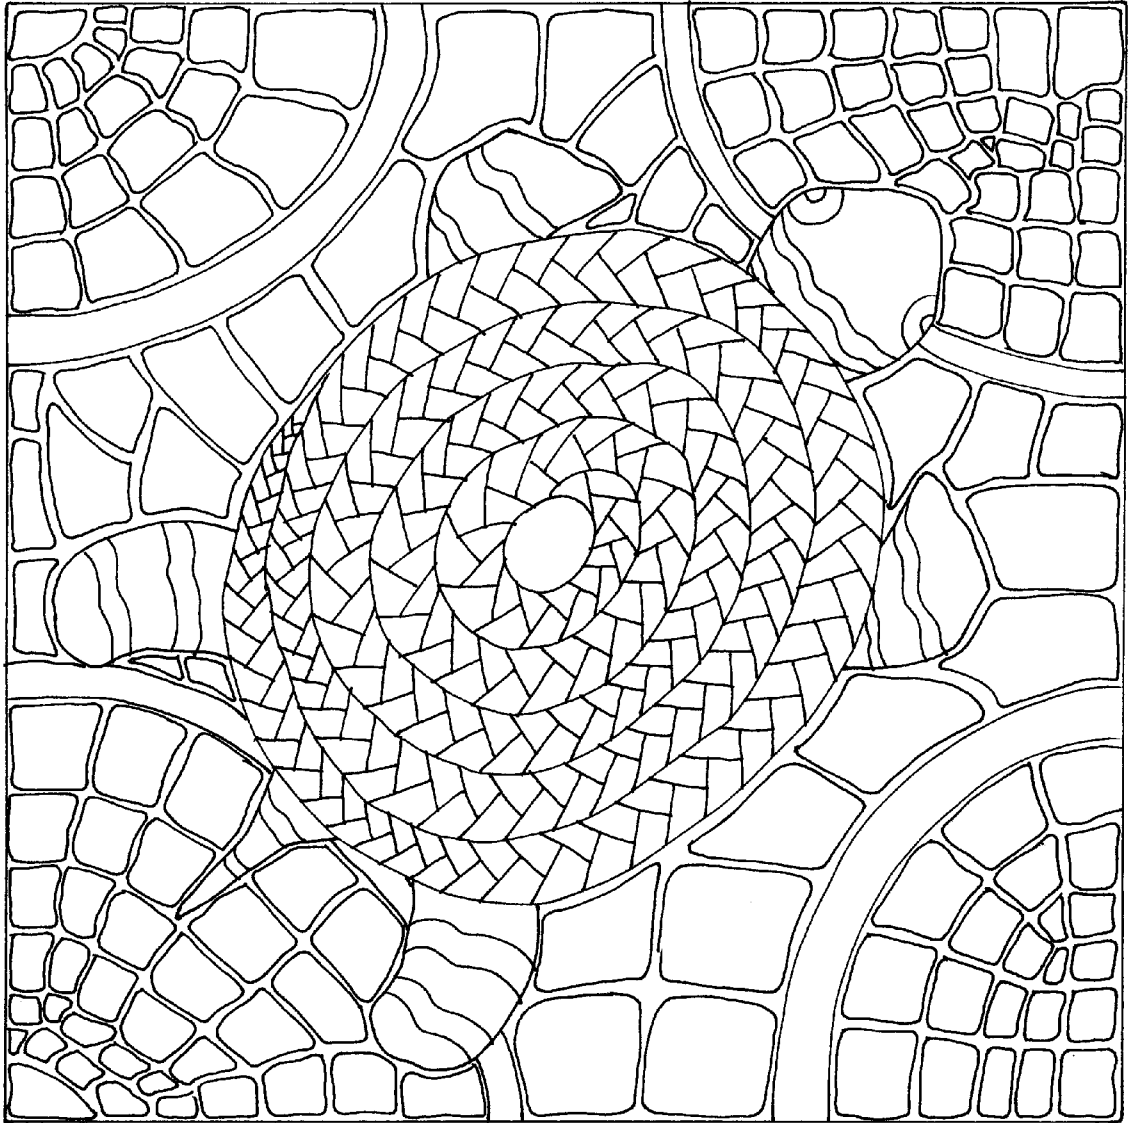

“Igggy the Iguana”

“Wiggley Piggley”

“Two Little Pigs”

“Totally Turtle”